UAW REJECTS COMPROMISE
IN WAGE WARGENERAL MOTORS
OFFER REFUSED
BY UNION

Detroit, Nov. 15 (AP)—The United Auto Workers (CIO) today flatly rejected a general 10 per cent wage rate increase offered by General Motors as a compromise on the union's demands for a 30 per cent boost.

The action, announced by Walter Reuther, UAW vice-president in charge of General Motors negotiations, came a short while after the company increased its previous offer of eight to ten per cent increases for the majority of the company's workers.

Reuther, terming the latest company offer "a streamlined approach to inflation," declared that if General Motors "raises its auto prices one cent, the UAW will go into court and get an injunction to stop such action."

Harry Anderson, General Motors vice-president, commenting on the threat of court action, said, "If the OPA sets up prices, I don't see how any court could take seriously any injunction request from the union."

Anderson said the 10 per cent wage increase would be presented to the OPA as part of the production cost data being compiled to aid the OPA in setting new car prices.

The latest exchanges on the General Motors-UAW came as both sides resumed discussions on the union's 30 per cent demands.

Meanwhile, in another development on the General Motors wage discussions, Neil Brant, international representative of the CIO United Electrical Workers, announced the company had offered a similar 10 per cent compromise offer on the UAW's demands for a $2 a day increase. Brant said the union will give its answer next week.

Questioned about reports that the Flint, Mich., UAW local has made preparations for a strike if the 30 per cent is not forthcoming, Reuther said:

"If there is one thing our locals do not lack it is initiative. However, it is unrealistic not to prepare for any possible developments."

Reuther said final decision on any strike action is vested in the union's special six-man strategy committee which meets in Detroit Monday.

Reuther asserted, however, that "every possible effort will be made to settle this thing across the conference table."

In another major development on Detroit's auto front, the Ford Motor company demanded that the union offer it guarantees against work stoppages and assurances of increased productivity by union workers.

The Ford proposal, made in advance of the opening of similar negotiations next Tuesday, demanded assurances of "company security" equal to that given the union in the four-year-old contract that provides for a union shop and check-off of union dues.

Also contained in the Ford proposals addressed to Richard T. Leonard, UAW-CIO director for the Ford company, was a suggestion that the union be required "to reimburse the company for any damages it may suffer by reason of violations of the provision prohibiting strikes and other interferences with production."

The company also asserted that it does not believe the present "is the time to settle on general wage

Reveal U. S. Knew
Japs' Secret Code
Long Before War

BY WILLIAM PEACOCK

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—The United States government was translating Japan's coded messages months before Pearl Harbor, knew she was spying on Hawaiian, Philippine and other defenses, and knew—well before the December 7, 1941, raid on the Pacific base—that war was threatening.

Exhibits disclosed this officially today when put before the congressional committee investigating the disaster which plunged this country into war and temporarily broke the backbone of its Pacific fleet.

The exhibits, consisting of translations of coded messages, also revealed that Japanese envoys in Washington reported to Tokyo the day before Pearl Harbor that they had been working with "influential" individuals behind their "frontal negotiations" with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull.

These "influential" individuals were not named.

William D. Mitchell, the committee counsel, put the messages into the record as the committee moved haltingly through its first open session.

One exhibit, of 253 printed pages, was comprised of translations from intercepted diplomatic messages sent by Japan between July 1 and December 8, 1941. The earliest was marked translated on August 8, 1941, showing the diplomatic code was "broken" at least by that date.

When Mitchell introduced the translations of coded Japanese messages, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) demanded to know whether they were "supposed to be complete." He and Brewster have contended that certain messages, notably a Tokyo broadcast, "East winds, raining," described as the code for war with United States, are missing.

"I am not claiming anything is complete," Mitchell replied.

The spread of knowledge of war ran through all the intercepted diplomatic messages in the days immediately before the Japanese attack.

CHARGE BELLM
WITH SLAYINGFormer Detroit Police Officer Accused
At Pontiac

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 15 (AP)—The state of Michigan dismissed its murder charge against one man in the slaying of Albert Rose Young, wife of an army air forces officer, and charged the killing to a second man today.

Edward Bellm, 46, former Detroit police lieutenant and fellow war plant worker of the 35-year-old victim, was accused in a justice court warrant of the fatal shooting the night of last October 3. The charge was first degree murder.

A similar charge against Lawrence Theis, 29, who was also a fellow worker of Mrs. Young in a Detroit factory, was dismissed. Justice of the Peace Luther Green, acting in both instances, set Bellm's examination for 11 a. m. tomorrow.

The body of Mrs. Young, a bullet wound in the head, was found in the Clinton river near here October 31. She was the wife of Capt. Franklin Young, who was in France at the time of her death and hastened here on leave.

In the course of the investigation officers attributed to Bellm statements which implicated Theis, including an assertion that the younger man had swindled Mrs. Young of money. This Theis denied. Police said he also was able to prove he was in New York at the time of Mrs. Young's death.

Bellm, who has been a private investigator and a war plant protection man, is married. Theis has been divorced. Prosecutor Donald C. Noggle said Theis, although freed of the murder charge, would be detained as a material witness.

Last Friday Bellm was found in his jail cell with his wrists slashed and a note beside him asserting his innocence in Mrs. Young's death.

Informing of the issuance of the murder warrant today, Bellm said at the jail: "What are they doing that for? Are they trying to make me the fall guy?"

CHRYSLER PROFITS UP

Detroit, Nov. 15 (AP)—Chrysler Corporation today reported net profit for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1945, of $23,077,062.57, compared with $18,324,451.64 for the like period of 1944. The statement reported total sales for the first three quarters of 1945 of $820,918,136.19 compared with $783,004,784.01 in the comparable 1944 period.

Vandenberg Appeals
For World-Wide Free
Press As Peace Aid

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Calling for a world-wide free press, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) appealed today for a lifting of "the iron curtain of secrecy" which he said make international confidence impossible.

Although his plea, in a speech from the Senate floor, was addressed to all the nations, Vandenberg directed a large portion at Russia.

"The truth," he said, "is that the iron curtain has been one of the greatest obstacles to the Soviet-American liaison upon which so much of the world's hope for peace and progress depends."

"The mutual disclosure of free information and the liberty of a world-wide free press are becoming increasingly indispensable to the successful operation of an interdependent world society."

Vandenberg's stature within his party and the Senate added weight to his words. He is chairman of the Republican Senate conference, a member of the foreign relations committee, and served as a delegate to the San Francisco conference which wrote the United Nations charter.

"There can be no dark corners in an atomic age," he declared. "It would be absolutely unthinkable that we and our British and Canadian associates would voluntarily or consciously permit any nation to take this so-called 'secret' behind an iron curtain which blacks out all information as to what is being done with it."

But Vandenberg opposed limiting the use of UNRRA funds to countries which permit free access to news about the relief work.

"The iron curtain is in the control of governments," he observed. "It is the people in these areas who die for want of bread. They do not control the curtain."

In passing a $550,000,000 UNRRA appropriation, now before a Senate committee, the House inserted a restriction against the use of the funds in countries where American reporters are denied free access to news about the relief activities.

RAIDS NET 100
SLOT MACHINESLansing Investigation Termed "Routine" By Circuit Judge

Lansing, Nov. 15 (AP)—Circuit Court Judge Louis E. Coash announced today that the Ingham county grand jury had taken possession of all slot machines in Lansing and vicinity in a "routine" investigation of state gambling laws.

Coash, who succeeded Supreme Court Judge Leland W. Carr as a grand juror investigating state government, said deputy sheriffs, 20 city police and about 25 grand jury representatives moving simultaneously throughout much of Ingham county had served grand jury subpoenas ordering slot machine records to be turned over to the grand jury.

He said the machines were being brought into the Lansing city hall in trucks, that 58 had been taken already, and that possibly 100 would be netted.

Judge Coash said the machines were taken from fraternal clubs, veterans clubs, private clubs and similar places.

"Every place where any known gambling equipment was kept has been subpoenaed," he said. The judge reported subpoenas were served on 26 establishments "to produce any and all slot machines and gambling equipment and keys thereto."

Coash revealed the scope of the Ingham county grand jury had been broadened several weeks ago on a petition of unidentified persons.

He declined to speculate on the grand jury's purposes or future steps, but said the operators of establishments subpoenaed would be questioned by the grand jury.

"Few of the operators of these establishments owned the machines," he said.

Grand Rapids, Nov. 15 (AP)—A Kalamazoo physician, whose license has been revoked, was sentenced Thursday by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond to serve two years in a federal institution after he pleaded nolo contendere to charges of violating the narcotics law. He is Carl Wager, 38.

CHINESE GET
PART CONTROL
IN MANCHURIARUSSIANS RESTORE SOVEREIGNTY IN CHANGCHUN

Chungking, Nov. 15 (AP)—Partial Chinese sovereignty over Manchuria was restored by the Russians today as both sides in China's civil war maneuvered for position in strategic Shantung province to the south.

An official dispatch said the Russians turned over postal and telegraphic services at the Manchurian capital of Changchun to Chinese authorities, whose troops still are blocked from the long Japanese-dominated area by Chinese Communists.

The official account added that under the agreement—one of those sought by Chungking in its attempts to recapture Manchuria ahead of the Communists—the Russians would be allowed to use the facilities until they withdrew, probably some time next month.

There still was no word on the outcome of Russian-Chinese negotiations for permission to fly Nationalist troops to Changchun.

But while the Manchurian situation took a more favorable turn, the Chinese Communists struck swiftly in the rich coastal province of Shantung.

Associated Press Correspondent Richard Bergholtz reported they ripped up sections of the railway leading into the interior in an attempt to seal off thousands of Nationalist troops landing from the sea at the big port of Tsingtao.

Travelers returning from Shantung's capital of Tsinan, told Bergholtz the city was under virtual siege, with Communists controlling routes leading into the city and the population and garrison running short of food.

Observers in Chungking believed the ultimate Communist objective was to seize control of the Yangtze west of Hankow and prevent Nationalist troops from using that mighty stream for transportation.

The Chinese New China Daily News leveled a new series of unconfirmed charges of alleged American intervention today, including these:

That America was sending 1,000 tanks to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, that America would train 10,000 men for China's air force, and that 100 American-manned tanks were heading for Shanhaikwan, fortress guarding the southern entrance to Manchuria, reportedly captured by Nationalist troops.

Ray Beauchamp, 58, Hardwood, was killed instantly in a deer hunting accident near Foster City at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

The fatal shot was fired by a hunting companion, Steve Bolog of Detroit, who said he had mistaken Beauchamp for a deer.

Beauchamp was shot in the head just below the ear. The shooting was investigated by Cpl. Warren Hornbrook of the Michigan State Police, Iron Mountain; Conservation Officer Steve Kukura and Coroner Asa of Norway.

In a statement to Prosecuting Attorney John Zanardi of Iron Mountain, Bolog said they were hunting in a brush area two miles southeast of the Earl Farrell farm and that he fired when he saw a "white flash" in the woods.

Beauchamp is survived by his widow and eleven children. He was employed with the Dickinson county road commission.

Associated Press reports last night said that three hunters were shot to death, two others wounded and a fifth died of a heart attack as Michigan's 16-day deer hunting season got underway Thursday with a record number of nimrods taking to the woods.

Grand Rapids, Nov. 15 (AP)—Rankin Young, 34, of Saginaw, was accidentally killed Thursday while hunting near Secord Dam in Gladwin county.

Officers of the West Branch state police post said his stepfather, M. D. Cronin, of Saginaw, fired the fatal shot.

A rifle in the hands of Charles Clawson, 17, of Route No. 3, Manotowish, accidentally wounded Stanley Trusdale, 16, same address. Trusdale's condition is not serious.

The accident occurred near Cassville.

Democrat's Win
Truman's Fight
For Reorganization

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Former Democratic cronies of President Harry Truman scored a 37 to 26 victory in the Senate today on his request for broad powers to reorganize the federal government.

They wrote into reorganization legislation an amendment that would allow any presidential plan for revamping the executive branch to become effective after 60 days unless rejected by both the Senate and House.

The favorable vote on the amendment defeated an attempt by Senator Donnell (R-Mo.) to require positive approval by both Senate and House of any Truman plan for reshaping government.

Donnell, with verbal aid of Senator Tatt (R-Ohio) and other Republicans, argued for several days that the double veto idea was unconstitutional and an abdication of the congressional power to legislate.

NEED TRAINING
TO KEEP PEACEGen. Eisenhower Hopes For World Peace, He Tells Congress

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told Congress today there is hope for perpetual peace, but America should keep her young men trained for war lest she be left "defenseless and naked before a future enemy."

A year's peacetime training for every youth of 18 is "imperative" for the safety of the nation, the five-star European commander testified to the House military committee.

"If I didn't have hope for peace I wouldn't be here—I would have jumped out of my plane over the Atlantic," the general declared.

But, he said, hope isn't enough. The next aggressor will smash first at the United States from far away, he said. "We will not have time to train units before we are faced with the final issue of defeat or victory."

Eisenhower wouldn't say who he thought the next aggressor—if there is one—might be. In answer to questions by Rep. Thomas (R-N.J.), he said:

Britain will never go to war against the United States.

Russia has "not the slightest thing to gain" by attacking this nation and moreover "I'm convinced her policy is one of friendship with us."

However, it is just as necessary in my opinion to train the citizenry as it is to send them by compulsion to the first grade when they are six years old," he said.

This pool of trained men is a key to world peace, Eisenhower insisted.

"This war might never have happened if America had followed a peacetime military training plan, the general testified.

Eisenhower flew from Europe to testify in behalf of the training bill, now embroiled in controversy, and also tomorrow will tell senators that he favors merger of the army and navy into one department of national defense.

Leo Lancour Admits Firing Fatal Shot

When I heard this I thought it was a game warden. At this time I jumped in the car and told Victor to get out of here as soon as possible. We left there then and drove to Mr. Busenau's field and checked that, but we did not locate any deer there, then we went home and went to bed. Enroute home from Chenier's field we talked some about the shot I fired and thought that there was a possibility that we could have hit a man.

"On Nov. 5 at 7 a. m. Victor Lancour and myself left home and drove to Edward Marenger's home with the intention of picking up Harold Marenger and going hunting. He did not want to hunt with us on this date. While there Mrs. Edward Marenger told us that John King had been shot by headlights. She did not know the extent of his injuries. We left there and went hunting near Watson or rather north of Arnold.

"When we got through hunting we returned to Arnold to Patient's store and while there noticed in the paper that John King had been shot and killed by headlights. I did not read all the article, however, I read it far enough to know that I had shot him last evening. Then Victor and I talked it over and decided to come to the State Police Post in Gladstone and give ourselves up."

"I know John King very well and I am very sorry that I did this."

Funeral on Monday
Prosecutor Strom said last night that the boys will be taken before juvenile court this morning, where a waiver of jurisdiction will be asked so that they may be arraigned in justice court on a manslaughter charge.

Officers including the prosecutor, state police, sheriff and conservation officers were investigating the shooting at the scene of the accident again yesterday, where a hub cap from the Lancour car, and the empty shell were found.

John Joseph King was born Sept. 17, 1929. He attended the Escanaba township schools and was a junior at the Escanaba senior high school. He was a member of Holy Family church of Flat Rock, the church choir and the C.Y.O.

The body will lie in state at the Alto funeral home, beginning at seven o'clock Saturday evening. Rev. Fr. Lavolette will recite the rosary at the funeral home chapel four o'clock Sunday afternoon. Members of the C.Y.O. will attend.

Funeral services will be held at St. Ann church, nine o'clock Monday morning, and burial will be in St. Ann cemetery.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three sisters and four brothers: Patricia Ann King, at home; Mrs. Andrew Chouinard, Detroit; Mrs. Lowell Dube, Flat Rock; Sgt. Edsel, with the U. S. army in France; Cpl. Adeline, in California; William and O'Neill King, at home; and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Flat Rock.

Dismiss Charge In Shooting Accident
Howell, Mich., Nov. 15. (P)—Manslaughter charges against Archie Bragg, 54, of Detroit, who fired a rifle bullet that killed Mrs. Lillian Lakkonen, also of Detroit, while she was in a rest room at Monahan Lake last Oct. 14, were dismissed by Judge Don E. Knapp of justice court here today.

Bragg fired at the rest room not knowing Mrs. Lakkonen was inside, and the bullet struck the woman in the heart.

Bragg offered to plead guilty to a manslaughter charge when arraigned in circuit court but the court would not accept his plea and the case was ordered returned to lower court where Bragg previously had waived examination.

TREASURE CHEST OF Eva Braun Found Filled With Loot
Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 15. (P)—Eva Braun's treasure chest was found today and American intelligence officers discovered beneath its hoard of jewelry and money dozens of photographs showing family pictures of her and Hitler and a mysterious baby girl called "Uschi."

Hitler, it seems, was quite generous with Nazi loot to the woman, who is believed to have died with him in the gloom of the Berlin chancellery while Berlin burned.

The pictures of the baby were in Eva's personal album. The treasure trove contained the woman's diary, which employed every other sentence to tell of "my undying love."

Thousands of dollars in American bills in varying denominations and a brooch set with 50 diamonds and valued at $15,000 were found. The prize treasure, however, was an 18th century silver set bearing the royal emblem of the Polish crown and valued by American officers at between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

Precisely where the treasure was found is still a secret; American intelligence officers hinted that the full story was not yet told. Information leading to the discovery was obtained in a routine investigation.

Some of the officials who participated in drafting the final statement said that it was remarkable for not holding out any soft assurances or simple formulas for future peace. They declared it

Price Administrator Chester Bowles had said previously that ceilings on some makes of new cars would be made public today.

The postponement, the second in a week, is to permit OPA to examine new financial information submitted by dealers to the House small business committee, the agency said in a statement.

It added that it might be "early next week" before any announcement is made.

The new cost information was submitted by W. L. Mallon, president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, Mallon, making his second appearance before the committee, again sharply criticized OPA's plan to require dealers to absorb all or part of any price increases granted to manufacturers to cover higher costs.

Bowles has defended the policy as necessary to keep retail prices at or near 1942 levels. He has contended that dealers still will make more money than they did before the war, saying there are prospects for greater production and sales.

COUNCIL HAS BUSY SESSION

Okay Resolutions On Pension Plan Study, Airport Board

In a comparatively short but busy session last night the city council passed resolutions approving actuarial study of Plan "B", the type of state sponsored pension plan city employees recently determined they wanted, created a city airport committee which will act with members of the county and Gladstone boards, and made a motion to help secure funds recently released, for improvement of the highway between Escanaba and Gladstone.

New Cab Company
The council also approved the application of a new taxi-cab company which proposes to begin operating here next week.

In authorizing the city manager to hire a state actuary who will determine the cost of the proposed pension plan to the city, councilmen emphasized that the resolution does not mean that the plan will necessarily be adopted. That study to be made is the first step necessary if any plan is to be put into effect.

The number of city representatives who will serve on the airport board was left to the discretion of Mayor Sam Wickman but it is believed that with members from the county and from the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone the number will not exceed seven.

Chief purpose of the board is to secure a suitable site for an enlarged airport to replace the present inadequate facilities in the county as well as to determine the conditions and terms of such a project, and how the airport may be governed and maintained.

Seek Federal Aid
The resolution regarding the federal funds for city highways requests the state highway commissioner to consider the need of widening highway US-2 and 41 north of Ludington street and the erection of an underpass to alleviate a hazardous traffic condition caused by the railroad crossing on the highway.

Two local men, Gordon E. Honeywell and Lawrence E. Posner, were granted a permit to operate the Union Cab company here at 1320 Ludington street and were given tentative use of one parking place in front of their place of business.

No action was taken on a proposal to purchase the hangar at the old airport north of the city.

Richer High Bidder
A high bid on two lots at the northwest corner of First avenue south, part of the Selden Addition, made by Walter E. Richer, was accepted. Richer's bid was $1,785, the higher of two submitted.

Council held over for action at a later meeting the petition of 14 lot owners for a sewer extension between Grand Avenue and Lake Shore Drive and 16th and 18th avenues south. Of 28 lots in the area concerned 14 are state owned and councilmen decided to postpone action until it could be determined if the cost to the city in laying the sewer along these lots could be returned if and when the lots changed ownership.

Chaplain Herbst Serving In Korea

With the 40th Infantry Division, Southern Korea—From churches in the Hawaiian Islands, tents on Guadalcanal, jungle grasses of New Britain and Philippine battlefields to a Buddhist shrine in Korea, chaplains of the 40th Infantry Division have climaxed three years of worship services across the Pacific.

Captain Charles H. Herbst, Catholic chaplain, entered the service in June, 1943, and came overseas in January, 1944. A resident of Menominee, Mich., Fr. Herbst holds the Bronze Star for meritorious service through three campaigns.

Stationed in southern Korea at Fusan, seaport of 325,000 Koreans and Japanese, with 40th occupation forces, Chaplain Herbst is finding a weird combination of religions, customs, nationalities and practices. Koreans and Japanese alike bow in humility as they view or pass Christian alters and chapels.

Faithful of the Shinto, Buddhist and Mohammedan religions, in their long, flowing robes, kimonos white pantaloons and wooden shoes, halt to bare their heads, offer a prayer and outwardly demonstrate their respect for all things sacred.

Rural tenancy declined 1,500,000 or 22 per cent between 1940 and 1944. Rural home ownership in the same period gained by 866,000.

A Hectic Problem

THE halting of automobile production at the Buick plant in Detroit because of "work stoppage" of a feeder plant in Cleveland reveals the hectic problems of reconversion during a period of general labor unrest.

Five thousand Buick workers have already been laid off because of the lack of chassis frames from the Cleveland feeder plant and there are prospects that a total of 20,000 Buick workers may be affected before long.

A short time ago thousands of Ford workers were thrown out of work because of a strike in the Kelsey-Hayes wheel plant. In these days of specialized industry, a work stoppage in one plant may involve the layoff of thousands of workers in another plant.

Every strike further delays the production of vital commodities that are needed not only to meet the consumer demand but also to relieve the strain of inflation.

It is already apparent that the reconversion process has been greatly delayed. The numbers of new cars, radios, washers, refrigerators, etc. that government officials predicted would be available for Christmas are conspicuous by their absence.

The nation has lost valuable time in reorganizing to a peacetime economy. Unfortunately, there is little cause for hope that the worst of the labor troubles are behind us.

Fatality No. 1

EVEN before the season had opened, Delta county recorded its first deer hunting death when a Flat Rock boy was killed by an unidentified hunter Wednesday night.

Like the hit-and-run driver, the assailant drove hurriedly from the scene. Such ruthless action is tantamount to murder, for even though it might have been an accident the man who fired the deadly shot should have stayed to identify himself and offer whatever assistance possible.

There is an increased number of hunters in the woods this season, and many of them are lacking in hunting experience. Cases of the so-called "buck fever" are likely to be prevalent. Unless hunters are careful to ascertain what they are shooting at, there will be many casualties before the season ends.

Mobile X-Ray Clinic

MANY persons are availing themselves of the opportunity to obtain free examination for early detection of tuberculosis while the mobile X-ray unit is visiting various Delta county communities.

No longer does the public shy away from T-B tests as in the early years of the fight against this disease. Public education has eradicated many of the false notions, all of which is making progress much easier.

Tuberculosis is caused by a germ, the tubercle bacillus, which was discovered in 1882 by Dr. Robert Koch, a German physician. It is a small, rod-like organism, visible only under the microscope. The disease is spread directly from one human being to another by inhalation or swallowing the germs. The most frequent seat of the infection in man is the lungs, although intestinal infections are not uncommon and the disease may attack any of the other organs, sometimes spreading to all parts of the body.

Under the crowded conditions of civilized life, nearly everyone at one time or another inhales and swallows thousands of tubercle bacilli. That all are not ill is due to the resisting power of the body. Human resistance to tuberculosis is greatly weakened by the exhausting effect of other infectious diseases, such as scarlet fever, measles or influenza.

Tuberculosis is curable, however. The earlier the diagnosis, and the sooner the treatment is started, the better the chance for cure. To effect a cure, the tissues must be given a chance to heal. This is done putting the patient at rest in the fresh air and supplying him with wholesome nourishing food.

Early detection of the disease is the all-important factor, and the mobile X-ray clinic service makes this possible.

Paid For Sitting

THE deputy director of the Denver branch of the Office of surplus Property frankly admits he is being paid $6,320 a year for doing nothing.

All he does is report at his office each day. He sits just for he has not received any mail for weeks. Here is an honest officeholder, although we believe if he were a little more conscientious he would quit his job rather than continue to take the overburdened taxpayers' money. Very likely this would not relieve the taxpayers' load for if he quit someone else would be assigned to take his place.

Even in wartime, there were many federal jobholders sitting around in Washington and other government offices, with little work to do. They were being kept on the payroll so that their superiors would be able to maintain their high ratings.

President Truman announced several months ago that he would streamline government bureaus and reduce payrolls. We haven't heard yet how much money has been saved by his economy program.

Other Editorial Comments

SHELTER BELT A SUCCESS

(Milwaukee Journal)

The once scoffed at shelter belt of trees, planted to grow virtually across the nation, from north to south, is a success, according to E. N. Munns of the federal forest service.

The tree plantings, proposed by the late President Roosevelt largely to stop wind erosion and prevent the spread of the "dust bowl," are growing on the plains, sand hills, even deserts of a tier of states from North Dakota to Texas.

Tree survival has been good, ranging from about 55 to 70 per cent, that is surprising on lands that never grew trees within the memory of white men.

Just why some of the grasslands or prairies were without forests never has been explained. The soil is, or was, good in many places and trees should have appeared upon them. So men theorized that perhaps the great bison herds trampled down every seedling that chanced to take root; or that the Indians set grass fires every year to keep the plains unobscured so buffalo and other creatures might both thrive and be readily hunted.

In any event, the federal foresters refused to accept the thesis that trees could not be grown on the prairies or even on the so-called desert lands.

Today they have some 200,000,000 of them thriving in the shelter belts. Nearby farmland topsoil no longer rises in the form of dust. Cultivated crops grow again, in the shelter of the trees.

These good results from an interstate undertaking are needed in parts of Wisconsin. This so-called "forest state" has been so deforested in places that topsoil blows away here, too; floods gully the land, crop failures are experienced, a few desert plants have appeared.

Wisconsin already has restored some farms by giving their boundaries and fields the protection of trees but needs more of such protection.

BRIMLEY FISHERMEN

(Sault Ste. Marie News)

We cannot help but deeply sympathize with the plight of Brimley and neighboring commercial fishermen.

Prospects are they will lose their small-mesh herring nets unless something happens and happens quickly.

The recently enacted law limiting herring nets to 2 3/8-inch mesh probably affects Brimley fishermen more than any other group of commercial fishermen. They claim they had no advance knowledge that the law was contemplated or even that it had been enacted. As a group they depend heavily on the 2 1/4-inch mesh for fishing through the ice in wintertime, their chief source of livelihood. Apparently the law was instigated by commercial fishermen who had not such a great stake in winter herring, and passed by the legislature without knowledge of the hardship it would work on Brimley.

In America the philosophy of government is that the majority rules and that laws are enacted for the benefit of the majority. However, laws should not be enacted that cause a severe hardship to any group. If a wrong has been done to Brimley fishermen, then steps should be taken to re-examine the law with a view of correcting the legislation.

The law itself appears to be the heart of the trouble here. Blame cannot be placed on conservation officers who are charged with enforcing the laws we make. That's what we expect them to do. If the law is unfair the legislature itself should change it.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

COLBY, YOU'RE WRONG!

From D. B. S., a professor of English: You should not be permitted to continue your campaign of disparagement against English textbooks. Your statement that the grammars are filled with "Latinized mumbo jumbo" shows a shocking lack of reverence for the King's English.

Answer: Right! However, I have no interest at all in the King's English. I am concerned about our medieval method of teaching the American language of Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public and their long-suffering offspring.

As to "Latinized mumbo jumbo," here is just one of many such instances: English textbooks continue to perpetuate the absurd myth that there is such a thing as "gender" in our language.

True gender, as in Latin, Greek, and French, simply does not exist in English. True, we have a few nouns which denote sex, such as waitress, man, host, hostess, queen, drake, etc., and six pronouns which indicate sex: He, him, his, she, her, hers.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Speaking to a joint session of Congress, Prime Minister Clement Attlee reminded his listeners that twice before, during the war, they had heard his predecessor in office, Winston Churchill.

The earnest socialist paid a warm tribute to the inspired Tory who led Britain safely through the greatest threat to her national existence since the time of the Spanish armada.

You could not help but think, seeing the thickest rather stooped figure of Attlee, of the contrast between the two men. They are as unlike in every respect as day and night.

—BRITISH POLICY UNCHANGED—Churchill is dramatic, bold, brilliant in his use of language, fond of good food and drink, delighting in the pageantry and the picturesque of the past. Attlee is sober, cautious, hard-working, terribly in earnest, forewearing worldly pleasures for the promise of Socialism.

Yet, for all the differences of personality and purpose, the policy of Attlee's government around the world has not thus far had a very different look from the policy of Churchill's government. If Churchill instead of Attlee, had won the election in England last summer, Liberals and Leftists in this country would undoubtedly now be blaming tragic events in the middle east and in Southwest Asia on Churchill's imperialism.

In the minds of some of Attlee's listeners was the unhappy thought that, as he spoke of our ancient liberties, British tanks and British destroyers were killing Indonesian Nationalists in Java. Those Indonesians, according to A. T. Steele of the N. Y. Herald-Tribune, have taken the very concepts Attlee invoked—Magna Charta, the Atlantic Charter, the Bill of Rights—as slogans to fight for.

It is easy to use the word hypocrisy. It is too easy, it seems to me.

The concept of an England of free men, of an England showing the world the way to orderly democracy, is the concept that Attlee presented to Congress. That the basic freedoms in Britain could be encroached upon by a labor government is nonsense. It was nonsense, and dangerous nonsense, when Churchill resorted to it in the heat of the election campaign.

—PROCESS MUST BE SLOW—But this concept has until very recently ignored the appendage of a great colonial empire. It has conveniently ignored the fact that, in part at least, those freedoms and the standard of living which went with them were possible because of the Colonial Empire.

The tradition of empire, the weight of customs and habits deeply engrained in millions of minds—and, above all, in the minds of soldiers and civil servants—will not be changed overnight by a change of government from Tory to Socialist. The process, like most of human progress, must be one of slow and painful evolution.

"In the British Commonwealth and empire," Attlee said, "we offer an example of many nations, some of which have reached, others of which are approaching, full self-government. Even during the war, India was given the opportunity of taking complete charge of her own affairs, and in the Colonial Empire eight or nine new constitutions have been adopted or are being worked out, all based on the extension of democratic principles."

The danger in East Asia is whether, given the ferment of unrest produced by the war, any process of evolution will be sufficiently fast. Episodes such as that in Java blot the record in a way that may make achievement of a common democracy impossible.

One of the mistakes of our time was to think that, by applying a new political pattern, we would automatically change human behavior, either for better or worse. With respect to Russia, for example, some Americans want to think that communism has made the Russian people into new and perfect human beings; other Americans prefer to believe that it has pushed them back several centuries.

Political systems do not work magic changes. England, as Attlee told us, will be England.

But this is not grammatical gender.

Gender, as any student of Latin or French knows, is a horrid and complicated business. In French, for example, not only nouns and pronouns have gender, but so do the articles and adjectives. To further complicate matters, there is no so-called "neuter" gender.

For example, to say in French, "Is the table beautiful?" one writes, "La table est-elle belle?" Every word except "est" (is) is feminine. "Is the book beautiful?" is written, "Le livre est-il beau?" for every word but "est" is masculine.

A chair (une chaise) is feminine; a bench (un banc) is masculine; a beast (une bête) is feminine; an animal (un animal) is masculine; the cream (la crème) is feminine; the milk (le lait) is masculine. It is without rhyme or reason.

Now that is true gender in all its Latinized frightfulness, and we may think our lucky stars that it does not exist in English.

But most of the textbooks solemnly keep up the pretense, and thus add to all the other cruel and needless befuddlements of grammatical mumbo jumbo. I shall continue to campaign for grammar without grams.

But the idea is not original with me. As long as 1881, that uncompromising old pedagogue, Richard Grant White, declared: "It has been the curse of the teaching of English—that the methods, the spirit, and the terminology of Latin syntax have been transferred and applied to the English tongue. As well might a horse undertake to teach an eagle to fly, or a dolphin to swim."

Some More of the Same, Garçon!

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

WANT TO COME HOME—The men and women who have served their country in overseas service want to come home—and fast. Mike McCauley, whose home address is 114 North 13th street, Escanaba, is no different than the others. He has been overseas for the past two years and is now in Italy.

From Italy he sends relatives in Escanaba a clipping from Stars and Stripes, the army magazine, which gives the GI slant on the transportation of war brides to the U. S. ahead of American soldiers. This is a sore spot with the boys in Italy, who are boiling mad over the priorities given English and Italian brides of servicemen.

Stars and Stripes presents letters from service men and women protesting the practice, and one member of the Army Nurse Corps writes pointedly: "Many of our number are at the replacement depot, just waiting. Yet these foreign-born brides are given shipping preference over American-born men and women who fought for their country."

THE OTHER SIDE—And to give the other side of the picture, there is a story from Washington that the War Shipping Administration is merely following orders of the joint chiefs of staff in picking up troops "who and where we're told," and that such schedules are being met.

Later in the story, however, is the admission that "the army expects to be only seven days behind in its over-all troop return schedule by Jan. 1." Roughly 500,000 men a month are being brought home, it was reported.

The walls of high-point Gismarooned around the world, nevertheless is reaching Washington in increasing volume.

MORE BULLDOZERS?—The discussion on land clearing in Delta county and the question of the number of bulldozers needed to accomplish the work goes merrily along. As in all good topics for discussion, the controversy will bring about a better understanding of the situation as a whole.

Latest communication on the land clearing comes from Matt Ledvina, Rock, Rt. 1, one of the county's successful farmers. Matt writes:

"I believe there should be more bulldozers in the county. Let all those that could afford to buy one, buy. The kind to buy depends on the soil, timber and the condition of the land. I had four different kinds of bulldozers working on our land since 1938, some of them two, three or four times. Much depends on the man driving it. Since 1912 I have used over 3,000 pounds of dynamite in land clearing and bought different kinds of stump pullers—but a bulldozer is the best."

TWO RECOMMENDED—As result of the planning program committee meeting held recently at the court house and attended by Delta county farmers and others, E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, has recommended the purchase of two additional bulldozers in the county for the coming year. While there was some difference of opinion, majority of the committee believed that two bulldozers would be sufficient. Six of the machines were available for purchase in the county.

Wenner explained the other day

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1935

Wilbur L. LaFean, 52, president of the Naugle Pole and Tie company of Chicago, died at his home, 930 Seventh Avenue south, at 5 o'clock yesterday morning after an illness of five months duration.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parent, 115 South Fifth street, are the parents of a daughter, born Friday afternoon at St. Francis hospital.

Iron Mountain—Contending that drastic action should be taken soon to curtail heavy importation of pulpwood, M. J. Fox, president of the Von Platen Fox company and member of the state conservation commission, has communicated with the National Chamber of Commerce at Washington, D. C., to enlist its support in bringing the situation to the attention of the government.

20 Years Ago—1925

The nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Nelson, 1704 First avenue south, submitted to a painful operation yesterday when a piece of glass was removed from the pupil of her eye.

Ken Voght, radio announcer on station WRAC, has gone to Chicago where he will spend the week at the Chicago Radio Show.

Oliver Thorsen, of Gary, Ind., son of Mrs. Marion Thorsen, 1019 First avenue north, was seriously injured in an automobile accident which occurred recently when he and a companion were driving between Gary and Valparaiso, Ind.

Miss Constance Walker of Escanaba has been admitted to the Alpha Sigma Delta Society, one of the campus literary and social organizations for women of Kalamazoo College.

that the bulldozers cost between $5,000 and $6,000 each and their upkeep is high. At least five years work with the machine is necessary for the owner to pay off his investment.

From the financial standpoint, therefore, it is sound economics not to have too many of the machines in the county. For if there are too many there will not be sufficient work for all of them, and the return on his investment would be greatly reduced.

BEGINNING TO BUBBLE—Interest is growing in the proposal to have the state of Michigan acquire an area at Fayette for development as a state park.

The ball that started rolling several weeks ago when the Delta county board of supervisors adopted a resolution asking the state to investigate the possibility of establishing a park there, has been gathering speed. Yachtsmen in particular have hoped that sometime Fayette harbor, one of the best small boat harbors on Green Bay or Lake Michigan, would pass into public ownership so that it might never be closed to public use.

Fred Van Remortel, the present owner of the shore property bordering Fayette harbor, has permitted public access to the harbor and shore without restriction. Because of this the location has become one of the popular in this area as a recreation spot for picnickers, fishermen and yachtsmen. Next logical step is to assure the continuance of such a policy through public ownership.

Whether the state will acquire the property is indefinite, and will be determined only after investigation by a committee of the conservation department and a recommendation and report to the conservation commission. This will take time.

It is encouraging to those proposing Fayette as a state park site to know that Michigan does plan extensive improvements to its state park system. The proposal has been made at an opportune time.

Q&A Service

By WS Bureau

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) MAIL THIS COUPON and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Escanaba Daily Press Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. C., for a personal reply. Don't telephone: Write as directed.

Q. My husband is in the European theatre awaiting orders for transfer elsewhere, but he doesn't know where. Should I continue to write him at the old address?

A. Yes; your letters will be forwarded if he has been moved.

Q. My brother enlisted in the Army when under age without my parents' consent? Is it possible for me to apply for his discharge on the grounds that he still is under age?

A. No, only a father, mother, or legal guardian may request a boy's separation because of minority, and such request must be accompanied by documentary proof of the boy's age.

Q. I am an Army officer retired for illness not the result of service. Is my retirement pay supposed to be taxed?

A. Yes.

Q. How many divisions are expected to occupy the American zone of occupation in Europe?

A. By late spring of 1946, our forces in Europe will be reduced to 7 divisions.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. Who was the first President of the United States to habitually dress in long trousers while he was Chief Executive?

A. James Madison. Between 1790 and 1800 trousers gradually came into vogue among the common people in America, but it was not until 10 or 12 years later that they were substituted for breeches on dress occasions.

Q. Have the residents of the District of Columbia ever had a vote and an elected government?

A. From 1817 to 1874 the District had a Territorial form of government—headed by a Governor, appointed by the President. The upper house of the assembly (the council) was also appointed by the President, but the members of the house of delegates were elected. Before this, the cities of Georgetown and Washington had been governed by elected mayors and aldermen, but the city charters were repealed by the general act above cited.

Q. What do you recommend for skin that has a tendency to become coarse and dry from winter winds?

A. Skin that is much exposed to cold air should be given generous treatments of cold cream. A greasy facial mask helps to prevent wrinkles and it should be worn all night about twice a week. Skin should be dried with hot towels in cold weather and care should be exercised at all times to avoid going out in the cold without a protective coating of cream and powder.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—When Admiral Dewey returned triumphant from capturing the Philippines in the Spanish-American war, newsmen asked the conquering hero whether he was a Democrat or a Republican. The Admiral wasn't quite sure which. That ended the Dewey boom for president.

Today, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, perhaps the greatest all-round commander this country has seen in two decades, has returned and may be put in the same position as Admiral Dewey. Both parties are considering new blood for 1948. GOP leaders are convinced that, given a candidate who can win labor votes yet not alienate the Hoover conservatives, they can win. Obviously, Eisenhower is important presidential timber.

Popular impression is that Eisenhower is a Republican. He was appointed to West Point from the rock-ribbed Republican state of Kansas by GOP Senator Joseph P. Bristow. And nobody in those days could get anywhere in Kansas unless he was a Republican.

However, though it may be news to GOP leaders, Dwight Eisenhower put himself on record early in life as a Democrat. Furthermore, he was an energetic William Jennings Bryan Democrat, and in November 1909 made a speech at the annual Democratic banquet held in Abilene, Kans. The other speakers were older and seasoned Kansas Democrats; but Dwight Eisenhower, then only 19, was picked to stand up with them and harangue the crowd. He did.

Eisenhower's speech, hitherto overlooked by politicians and delvers into the General's past, is printed in black and white in the files of the Abilene News, then the Democratic paper of the town.

—IKE'S OLD FRIEND—

I am indebted for this information to J. W. Howe now of Exporia, Kans. Howe not only published the Abilene News, but was a member of the school board and knew young Dwight better than anyone outside his own family.

The Abilene News office was headquarters for a group of high school boys who came there to discuss their problems, talk sports and politics, read the papers and do odd jobs for the paper. J. W. Howe says of Eisenhower:

"Dwight liked to read the exchange newspapers from out of town. He never complained about working, seeming to take that for granted. In school discussions, he was always for the under-dog and contended we needed a somewhat better distribution of wealth."

William Jennings Bryan at that time had made many speeches in Abilene and the young folks liked to hear him. In fact, Bryan made some definite inroads on the Republicans. The Republican party at that time was beginning to be split into two groups, led by Taft and Teddy Roosevelt. The fight in Abilene was bitter, and this was the situation when Dwight Eisenhower started out in 1909 to get the proper endorsements to enter West Point.

—DWIGHT GOT TO WEST POINT—

The Eisenhower family had no political pull—on the contrary, Dwight's father was listed as a Democrat, though he took little part in politics. Dwight himself was more active than his father, but whatever pull he had was with the Democrats. However, the factional Republican fight helped him. Editor Howe, the town's chief Democratic leader, advised Dwight to go get the endorsement of Phil W. Heath, editor of the Abilene Chronicle and spokesman for the "Square-Deal" Republicans; also to get the endorsement of Charles M. Harger, editor of the Abilene Reflector, spokesman for the "Stand-Pat" Republicans.

Since young Eisenhower was not allied with either faction, Heath and Harger were very friendly, and gladly gave him their support. Thus, he was able to obtain not only the endorsement of the Democrats, but of both Republican factions—a real compliment to his standing in the community.

Eisenhower's first and only venture into politics occurred while he was taking post-graduate work at the Abilene high school, preparatory to West Point. Chief speaker at the Democratic banquet was George H. Hodges, later governor of Kansas. Dwight's subject was "The Student in Politics."

—IKE'S FIRST SPEECH—

Two themes ran through the speech of the 19-year-old future commander to the Allied armies in Europe—preparedness and helping the under-dog.

"There is an old proverb," the young orator told his audience of Democrats, "that says 'as the twig is inclined, so the tree is bent.' A man after voting the straight ticket for several elections seldom changes from one side to the other."

"This fact is proved conclusively by the controversy now going on in the Republican party. One branch is called the Square-Dealers, Insurgents, and Reformers. Although these men are loud in their denunciation of Cannon, Aldrich, and a few others who are hide-bound party men, yet they refuse to join any other party and at election vote the Republican ticket . . .

UNION LEADERS HIT AT RANDALL

Charge Inland Steel Co.
Official Is Evasive
In Mine Dispute

NEGAUNEE — Declaring "we are getting fed up with Randall and his ghost towns and scare headlines," Jack Powell, representative here for the United Steelworkers-CIO, this morning attacked the statement of Clarence B. Randall, vice president of the Inland Steel company, that union leaders are determined to close the iron mines by strike. He charged Randall with evasiveness and exaggeration.

"Let some things be clear in the public mind," Powell said.

"First, union leaders do not want a strike. We want the industry to negotiate the wage question and to make some concession in the matter of an increase to our men. We are asking for $2 a day increase.

"Second, while we do not want a strike, most certainly we will strike unless industry is willing to do more than sit back and say 'we can't pay.' Industry must negotiate this question to determine satisfactorily to all, its ability to pay any or all of this demand.

Police Seek Bogus Check Passer Here

The woman gave her name as Charlotte Nelson and a non-existent street number on Minnesota avenue in Gladstone. She used a blank check from an Escanaba bank and wrote in the name of a Gladstone bank on the paper.

Tender Birds Don't Start From Scratch

Murray, Utah (AP)—Lazy turkeys rule the roost at Le Roy Turpin's poultry farm. Turpin says turkeys whose food is placed within easy reach have tenderer meat than those that have to "scratch for a living.

THUG MAKES A CLEANING
Ogden, Utah (AP)—A woman told Police Desk Sgt. Ray Saunders she caught a thief snatching a rug off her clothesline, but he tucked it under one arm and ran. Saunders made this entry on the blotter: "After he was asked what right he had to take the rug, he took it and beat it."

Will Open Today

The North Escanaba branch of the Carnegie public library will open at the fire station this afternoon.

Open house will be from 2 to 5 o'clock this afternoon. The branch will be open every Friday afternoon and every Tuesday evening from 7 to 8:30 o'clock hereafter.

Before painting, remove all blisters and scale from the surface because fresh paint tends to loosen rather than bind the old coat.

Leather upholstery can be washed with pure castile or saddle soap. To restore glaze, rub briskly with the beaten white of an egg.

HOME BUILDING STYMIED HERE

Shortage Of Lumber And Other Supplies Is Critical

The boom in housing construction that was predicted with the end of WPB restrictions has failed to materialize and Delta county building supply dealers report that it is impossible to build a new home now in the face of the scarcity of lumber and other building materials.

Local dealers report that the lumber shortage is more critical now than at any time since the start of the war. A trickle of building material continued throughout the war but the situation has grown steadily worse in the past three months.

Strikes in western lumber mills and unsettled labor conditions in general are blamed for the current lumber shortage. Dealers who three months ago had expected a normal supply of all building materials by Christmas report that the situation now is extremely bad and it is uncertain when any improvement may be expected.

Although lumber ceiling prices have risen rather sharply during the war years, the prices of most other building materials have remained fairly stable and in many instances there has been no price increase.

The shortage of building supplies comes at a time when housing conditions are most acute in Escanaba. The Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday that the

PHONE 3741
RIALTO BLDG.SR. CLASS PLAY
PRACTICE HELD"What A Life" Successful
As Amateur Stage
Production

Rehearsals are being held regularly for "What A Life," comedy to be presented Dec. 6 by the senior class of Gladstone high school as its annual stage production.

The play is one of the most sensational successes ever offered by non-professionals. It was written by Clifford Goldsmith, creator of the Henry Aldrich radio sketches and is the play in which Henry first appeared.

Directing the production is Miss Elizabeth Millward.

The principal characters are Henry Aldrich, who just can't memorize the dates in Roman history, who tries to sell anything he owns in order to raise two dollars to take his girl to the spring dance, and who in desperation "borrows" answers for his examination, only to be found out; Barbara Pearson who is gloriously happy and desperately unhappy over the prospect of her first formal dance; George Bigelow, Henry's enemy, who almost gets him into real trouble; several teachers, including Miss Pike, Miss Johnson and Miss Wheeler, with their worries, about Easter vacation; Mr. Nelson, assistant principal, who straightens out Henry's problem and sets him on the right path; not to mention Henry's mother who insists that the boy should go to Princeton, though his real talent is for drawing—these are some of the ingredients in a play which treats the universal problem of adjustment in the lives of normal boys and girls. Henry just can't get through his head the book learning he is supposed to absorb, and this is what involves him in scrapes both serious and amusing and, on one occasion, makes it look as though he had actually stolen the school band instruments, to the consternation of the distracted music teacher who, with the help of an amusing detective, finally discovers that the instruments have been pawned by Bigelow, who tried to throw the blame on Henry. However, Henry's problem is solved through the sympathetic help of the assistant principal.

MANISTIQUE

DAILY PRESS BLDG.
111 Cedar StreetJAPAN LACKED
RAW MATERIALManistique Boy Was A
Witness To Nip
Helplessness

The atomic bomb was not the most important factor that brought about Japan's capitulation. That nation's utterly depleted stocks of coal and iron had more to do with its demoralization. A Manistique boy is witness to that fact.

Cpl. Gerard Gauthier, who for many months was a prisoner of our recent enemy, was forced to labor in one of Japan's big steel plants and states that toward the last the plant was practically forced to suspend operations, not because it had suffered the ravages of air warfare, but because there was no iron or coal with which to operate.

Cpl. Gauthier related this fact at a meeting of the Manistique Lion's club Tuesday evening when he was guest of that body and answered questions put to him.

Kyushu Island, where the young man was held at the time of his release, withstood some of the heaviest pounding of any part of Japan proper. Nagasaki, where one of the atomic bombs fell is located on the same island; but the place where he worked was not severely damaged.

Some of his experiences sounded funny when told but were, perhaps, very close to tragedy when lived through.

He stated, for instance, that he learned enough of the Japanese language to converse with fair proficiency. "I had to learn it," he said, and then explained that the overseers gave orders in Nipponese and "when we didn't get the drift we got a bon on the head." To minimize the number of punishments, he and his fellow prisoners had to know what was being said. Gradually they slipped into a routine and in the meantime acquired a new language.

Food and living conditions, of course, were wretched beyond description. Their diet consisted of a monotonous fare of which rice was a basic ingredient. There was boiled rice in the morning, soup (sometimes good, but more often bad) at noon and rice, mixed with beans in the evening. On rare occasions the fare was supplemented with fish or scanty portions of meat. The Japs, who fared little better than the Americans, seemed to thrive on this diet.

Their sleeping quarters were badly infested with vermin, and toward the last the overseers took pity on them and let them sleep outside.

Not all of the Japs were cruel or spiteful, he said. Some got to be real friendly and one even shared some of the better food that came his way.

Then came the day when American planes flew over the prison camp and dropped American food down to the prisoners. It was too much for many of the boys who had been made accustomed to simple and monotonous diet. The effects from overeating were fatal to some.

Before being returned to this country, Cpl. Gauthier had opportunity to get about and to see something of the life and customs of the people. One thing he will long remember, he states, is the degraded status of women in general in the country. The man of the house is its lord and master, he said. He eats by himself and when he has finished the women and children eat what is left. If there is none left, they have to wait until the next meal.

Cpl. Gauthier states that the army has been good to him and that he intends to remain in the service.

OPENING DAY
KILL IS LIGHTGame Reported To Have Gone Into Deeply
Sheltered Areas

Grey skies with a threat of snow and chill winds greeted hunters in the Manistique area on the first day of the open season for deer.

Places of business operated short handed and, fortunately for a number of grocery stores which customarily close on Thursday afternoons, the excuse to get off for the day was not required.

Observers in town are commenting generally on the fact that very few cars, laden with deer have as yet passed through the city. A checkup of observers at four o'clock Thursday afternoon reveals that only three deer had been seen along Cedar street up to that time. This is an unusual state of affairs, as many hunters take pride in being able to bring the first deer of the season into town.

People residing in the game areas state that while they believe that deer are as numerous as ever, they have gone into the deeply wooded areas earlier than usual this season. Poaching activities of last summer is blamed for this state of affairs.

No accidents of any kind have been reported and no cases of game violations have been docketed in justice court. This, also, is regarded as much out of the ordinary.

Repairs Being Made
On Damaged Lights
In Local Harbor

Workmen employed by a marine insurance company are repairing a light standard in the middle of Manistique harbor that was damaged two months ago when a carry boat collided with it during a storm.

The light had not been entirely out of commission, but the framework that held it was badly twisted and had to be replaced.

The light serves the dual purpose of guiding in coming and outgoing boats and also warns navigators against dangerous shallows. Pillings of an old dock still remain at the spot.

Bernice Viau and Urnell Saindon of Escanaba spent the week end at their parental homes.

Pvt. Bordeaux has returned to his camp in Norfolk, Virginia following a weeks visit at the John Cavades home. Mrs. Bordeaux is remaining here for some time.

Donald Savage enlisted for the U. S. Army Tuesday, Nov. 13.

High Wind Takes
Toll of Another
Store Window

High winds of Monday night raised havoc with another plate glass window in the People's Store, a light in about the center of the series on Oak street giving way to the strain.

Windows in this store building, have in the past been very vulnerable to gales sweeping up from the lake, but extra precautions have been taken of late years and the loss in the past year has been confined to three, one replacement having been made necessary after a prowler had smashed the window to steal a German automatic on display among a group of war trophies.

Ambergris, used in perfumery, is found floating on the sea.

FILMED MAIL
DISCONTINUEDV-Mail Forms May Still Be Sent Says
Postmaster

Microfilming of letters, to men in overseas service, was discontinued the first of the month but the V-mail forms sent to the soldiers or sailors in care of postmasters at New York, San Francisco or elsewhere, will still reach their destination, says Postmaster Frank Gierke.

The postoffice department encourages this kind of a missive, says Mr. Gierke, because it is invariably much lighter than customary letter and envelope because weight of overseas mail is still a serious problem.

The letters, however, will be sent via air mail only when air mail postage is applied to it.

It should also be remembered, says Mr. Gierke, that Christmas greeting cards sent to men overseas will require first class postage regardless of whether the missive is sealed or not. The postmaster adds that it is none to soon to send these greetings in order to insure delivery on Christmas.

MICHIGAN TO MEET PURDUE

Saturday's Game Will See Fight To Stay In Title Race

Ann Arbor, Nov. 15 (AP)—The teasing T-formation once more will be pestered by University of Michigan's football team when the Wolverines eleven collides with the Purdue Boilermakers here Saturday.

Both teams, with records of three wins in four conference contests, will be out to remain in the Big Ten race and as such are expected to give little and take much in the way of scoring opportunities.

The Wolverines first ran into the "T" to a great extent in the Army contest, which the Cadets seized 23 to 7. Then after a week's rest because of an open date, Michigan tangled with Illinois and had plenty of trouble until the fourth quarter when the Wolverines pushed across three quick scores for a 19 to 0 win.

Last week Navy really gave Head Coach H. O. (Fritz) Crysler the T-formation business to the tune of a 33 to 7 trouncing.

Now it's Purdue with a quick moving T behind a strong forward wall. Calling signals for the Boilermaker attack which takes advantage of the sure-footedness of Bill Canfield and the pile-driving attack of 200-pound Ed (Cat-foot) Cody, will be Bob DeMoss, sparkling freshman quarterback.

DeMoss leads the conference in numbers of passes completed, he's connected with 28 of 50 shots, while Canfield leads the Big Ten race in yards gained and is closely pressed by Cody.

Considerable of Michigan's aerial duty is expected to fall upon the shoulders of Left Halfbacks Pete Elliott and Wes Muelder, both navy trainees from Illinois.

Walt Teninga, tailback injured in the Navy contest, seems definitely out of the Purdue tilt, but Howard Yerges, recovering rapidly from an ankle injury, is looked to be back in at quarterback.

Today's practice was the last tough scrimmage session for the Wolverines this week, as tomorrow's workout will consist of formations run in playing uniforms and some punting work by Fullback Jack Weisenburger. Some time was spent today getting Bob Callahan and George Chlimes in shape to do placement kicking duty Saturday.

Mack To Represent State At Race Meet

East Lansing, Nov. 15 (AP)—Walter Mack of Buffalo, N. Y., will represent Michigan State college in the annual ICA cross-country meet Saturday in New York City, it was announced today by Coach Lauren P. Brown.

In 1941, before he left for service with the Marine Corps, Mack placed 16th in the annual five-mile meet. Michigan State captured the ICA team titles five consecutive years beginning in 1933. Mack and Coach Brown will leave by plane Friday for New York.

FIRST BUCK OF SEASON — First to claim credit for bagging the first buck of the 1945 season in Delta county was William Noyes, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Noyes, who reside near M-35 south of Escanaba near Portage creek. William reported that he killed the 8-point, 200-pound buck at 6:30 a. m. Thursday near Portage creek a short distance from the Noyes home. He brought the deer down with one shot from his 30-40 caliber Krag rifle. The youth has hunted for three years, and filled his license the past two seasons in the same hunting area near Escanaba's south city limits.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Paul Trout, who will be the principal speaker at the annual football recognition banquet Monday, Nov. 26 was nicknamed "Dizzy" shortly after he broke into organized baseball at Terre Haute in the 3-1 league in 1935 and he is better known in baseball circles by his nickname than he is by his given name. He moved up from the 3-1 league to Indianapolis in the American Association in his first year. He was with Indianapolis in 1936 and then was traded to Toledo. In 1938 he was transferred to Beaumont in the Texas league, a Tiger farm, and the following year, 1939, he moved up to Detroit in the major leagues.

The Tiger pitcher was born in Otter Creek township, Vigo county Indiana June 29, 1915. He is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 195. He is of Scotch-Irish descent, throws and bats right-handed. He became a 20-game winner in 1943 and the following year skyrocketed to 27 victories. He won 18 games this year. Trout has been a Yankee-killer in the past two seasons, during which he trounced the New York Yankees 11 times, losing only once. His hobbies are hunting and bowling and, in fact, it is a deer hunting trip to the upper peninsula that makes possible his appearance at the Escanaba football banquet.

Coming to Escanaba with Trout and also scheduled to appear on the banquet program is Chuck

Detroiters Climb To 2nd Place Tie In Nat'l Hockey League

Detroit, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings came from behind to whip the Chicago Blackhawks 5 to 2 in a National Hockey league game here tonight before 13,537 fans.

The win enabled the Detroiters to climb into a second place tie with the Chicago club, one game behind Montreal which gained exclusive possession of first place by whipping New York 2-0 to-night.

The Red Wings drew first blood on Ted Lindsay's first goal of the season early in the first period but the Hawks squared it two minutes later on Bob (Red) Hamill's 15-foot pitch over Goalie Harry Lumley's shoulder. Chicago went ahead 2-1 midway of the period when Max Bentley, assisted by Brother Doug, scored his ninth goal of the year on an eight-foot poke from right wing.

Joe Carveth, classy Detroit center, deadlocked it at 2-2 before the first period ended and it stayed that way for half the second period.

Adam Brown, back in action for the first time in a week after an injury-forced absence, broke into the clear at the 11:10 mark of the second period, kicked Carveth's pass onto his own stick and beat Goalie Mike Karakas from point-blank range to give Detroit a 3-2 lead it never relinquished.

Mud Bruneteau soloed into hammer a 10-footer between Karakas legs as the final period opened and Eddie Bruneteau turned it into a rout by scoring off a Brown's rebound with nine minutes to play.

Chicago, with Don Grosso out of the lineup because of a shoulder injury, played with only eight spares, one short of the maximum permitted under the rules.

The Hawks gave Detroit Goalie Harry Lumley little trouble after the opening period, though the 19-year-old netminder had to knock away 10 Chicago shots on goal in the second. Altogether, Lumley had 21 saves to Karakas' 27.

The Hawks and Red Wings tangled again next Sunday in Chicago.

WEISS IN CHARGE

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Yankees held a stemwinder of a press conference in their plush new offices today at which it was (a) announced that George Weiss was assuming charge of all baseball player operations within the Yankee organization, and (b) Hinted that the All-America Football Conference would have a club in Yankee Stadium next season unless the New York Football Giants changed their tune.

increases."

Called "Union-Busting" Leonard assailed the Ford statement as a "union-busting and strike-provoking document."

"The company's statement," he said, "makes it clear that the Ford company has joined the conspiracy of profit-swollen corporations to perpetuate present starvation wages or open the gates to inflation through unjustified price increases. * * *

"We had hoped our differences with the company could be peacefully adjusted during negotiations. But the company, without waiting for negotiations to begin or making any attempt whatever to determine if our problems could be settled by collective bargaining, comes out with a wild and threatening attack upon the union."

"This is certainly not bargaining in good faith. The only interpretation we can put on the statement is that the company is anxious to provoke a strike. * * *

Fire Causes Much Damage To Cabin

Munising — The Munising fire department answered a call Wednesday evening at 10:15 to put out a fire that did considerable damage to the interior of a cabin owned by Albert Glatus in the Tannery location.

The fire was believed to have been caused by a overheated fireplace, causing the outside of the cabin near the chimney to catch on fire and also between the walls. Considerable water damage resulted and the side wall also had to be torn down to get at the blaze.

MSC EMPHASIS IS ON DEFENSE

State College To Meet Penn Saturday At East Lansing

East Lansing, Nov. 15 (AP)—Emphasis was still on defense today as the Michigan State College football squad held its final contact drill before Saturday's clash with Penn State at East Lansing.

Coach Charley Bachman gave his charges another lengthy look at the spinner plays of the Nittany Lions and the first team showed marked improvement over previous practices in holding the "red" team to a minimum of yardage. Bachman warned his players, however, that "red" team runners didn't compare with Joe Tensie, triple-threat Penn State halfback, and they would have to be at their best to stop the strong Lion running attack.

The Spartans, meanwhile, continued to prepare to shoot the works in an aerial way against Penn State with Halfbacks Russ Reader, Dom Conti and Joe Bo-gart doing the passing. Left Halfback Bob Ludwig was still out with an attack of influenza.

Chess Club Formed At Recreation Hall

DEER HUNTERS AND OTHER LOCKER PATRONS

Due to the increased demand for year-around locker storage, we will not have the facilities for skinning and storing the whole carcass of deer this season.

Any deer stored here must be skinned and ready for cutting and packaging before it is brought in. Do not plan on storing more than your locker space will accommodate as the extra storage space we had in the past years is not available this year.

Your cooperation will be appreciated.

BANK DEBITS ON INCREASE

Escanaba Figures Total
$5,063,000 For October

During the month of October, the volume of bank debits in Escanaba reached a point that was eight per cent above the level attained in October, 1944, while the figures for the first ten months of 1945 show a six per cent increase when compared with the same period last year.

These bank debit figures represent the dollar volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay for goods, services, debts, etc. For a locality, bank debits are considered a good indicator of the volume of business transacted, for they reflect the amount spent by farmers, business and government in payrolls and for materials, as well as the amount spent by consumers in the general trade channels.

In Upper Michigan bank debits for the month of October were 10 per cent above those shown for October, 1944, while the cumulative total (January through October) of this year indicates a five per cent increase over the same period of 1944.

The indicated business volume of the entire Ninth Federal Reserve District (Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Upper Michigan, and Northern Wisconsin) for the month of October, 1945, was 13 per cent above the same 1944 month, while the cumulative total of 1945 was six per cent above that of last year.
